

SPAIN

- MADRID (1N), SEVILLE (2N),
GRANADA (1N)

Duration: 4 N / 5 D

Madrid Overview

- Madrid, Spain's central capital, is a city of elegant boulevards and expansive, manicured parks such as the Buen Retiro.
- No city on earth is more alive than Madrid, a beguiling place whose sheer energy carries a simple message: this city really knows how to live.
- Best time to visit: Spring and fall are ideal times to visit Madrid
- May and October are the best months, in terms of weather and crowds, however, the balmy month of May (with an average temperature of 16°C/61°F) is the most glorious time for making one's own discovery of the Spanish capital.
- Climate: The climate of Madrid is continental; mainly dry and quite extreme at times, Winter can be fairly cold with frequent frosts during the night and the occasional snowfall.
- Spring and autumn are mild with the most rainfall falling in these months. Spring and autumn are definitely the best times to visit, especially the months of April, May, June, September and October. There is very little rainfall during summer and also less rainfall during winter.

Seville Overview

- Seville is the capital of southern Spain's Andalusia region. It's famous for flamenco dancing.
- Major landmarks include the ornate Alcázar castle complex, built during the Moorish Almohad dynasty.
- Best Time to visit: The best time to visit Seville is from March to May. During these months the temperatures are mild, the rush of tourist traffic hasn't reached summer volume and the hotels tend to offer lower rates.
- Climate: The city has a hot Mediterranean/ dry-summer subtropical climate that is mild with moderate seasonality.

Granada Overview

- Granada is a city in southern Spain's Andalusia region, in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains.
- Best time to visit: The best time to visit Grenada is December. This single month is sandwiched between the departure of the rainy season and the arrival of the winter crowds. Like the rest of the Caribbean, Grenada experiences a surge in tourism from January through April, when the weather in the U.S. and the U.K. is at its gloomiest.
- Climate: Due to its distance from the Atlantic Ocean, Granada has a borderline cold semi-arid climate. Summers are hot and dry with daily temperatures averaging 34 °C, The coldest month is January with daytime temperatures hovering at 13 °C.
